

A Word to Doctors

We have the highest regard for the medical profession. Our preparations are not sold for the purpose of antagonizing them, but rather as an aid. We lay it down as an established truth that internal remedies are positively injurious to expectant mothers. The distress and discomforts experienced during the months preceding childbirth can be alleviated only by external treatment—by applying a liniment that softens and relaxes the over-strained muscles. We make and sell such a liniment, combining the ingredients in a manner hitherto unknown, and call it

Mother's Friend

We know that in thousands of cases it has proved more than a blessing to expectant mothers. It overcomes morning sickness. It relieves the sense of tightness. Headaches cease, and danger from swollen, hard and rising breasts is avoided. Labor itself is shortened and shorn of most of the pain. We know that many doctors recommend it, and we know that multitudes of women go to the drug stores and buy it because they are sure their physicians have no objections. We ask a trial—just a fair test. There is no possible chance of injury being the result, because Mother's Friend is scientifically compounded. It is sold at $1 a bottle, and should be used during most of the period of gestation, although great relief is experienced if used only a short time before childbirth. Send for our illustrated book about Mother's Friend.

The Norfolk News

The only time when some people ever hit anybody is when they are firing at random.

It is currently reported that the Kentucky campaign will be opened with a corkscrew.

Joe Wheeler has reached the Philippines. Aggy. Fighting Joe will get you, if you don't look out!

The St. Paul Dispatch defines an optimist as a man who confidently expects to get back a loaned umbrella.

Kansas City has offered $50,000 for the democratic national convention. Isn't that more than the show is worth?

"Wherever it is assailed it will be carried to triumphant peace." Thus spoke McKinley of old glory, and the American patriot says Amen.

Here is continuity of purpose: Wm. J. Bryan in 1892—free trade specialist; Wm. J. Bryan in 1896—free coinage specialist; Wm. J. Bryan in 1900—anti-trust specialist.

Prosperity has not only scattered its blessings far and wide over our own country but over Europe as well. Travelers returning from the continent say that building is going on at a lively rate in Paris, Berlin and other great cities, and the people are employed and happy.

Oom Paul is so decidedly in favor of peace that he is preparing for war, just like the big fellows who met through their representatives at the Hague a short time ago. The truth is that all of them like peace so well that they are willing to fight for it at the drop of the hat.

The blue glass craze which swept over the country a score of years ago seems likely to be duplicated by a red glass fad which now prevails in Europe. It is claimed for the red glass, as it was for the blue, that it has great efficacy in curing disease.

Mr. Bryan says voters are influenced by their stomachs. When he runs up against the abundant wheat crop of the northwest and the immense corn crop of Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa, and the overflowing dinner pails of the working men who are everywhere being employed at higher wages, he will find that he has spoken the truth. The full stomach of the American people is what bodes disaster to Bryanism.

The souvenir edition of the Madison Star, issued last Thursday in commemoration of the return of company F, First Nebraska, is a very creditable production for a country printing office. Filled with half tone cuts of soldiers of company F, as well as prominent citizens of Madison and other portions of the county, printed on fine paper, and its columns devoted to the soldiers and other matters of interest at the time, it makes an edition well worth preserving.

The impending cloud on the horizon of local republican politics is one which should be dissipated even if the party has to adopt the latest theory of the way to destroy the effect of a cyclone in its incipency, by shooting into it. To Norfolk has been conceded by the rest of the county the right to name the candidate for sheriff, and this she will be glad to do, provided such a selection can be made among ourselves, but the present indications are that that will be a very difficult matter. The trouble seems to be that we have not only one candidate but two who are likely to come before the county convention, and in the present status of affairs Norfolk is likely to be wrangling over which shall be the choice, while the rest of the county gets disgusted and throws the nomination to some one else. It seems inevitable that a continuation of the present fight will not only lose the nomination to both the Norfolk aspirants, but it will seriously handicap the whole ticket when it comes before the people at the election. There ought to be some way that this matter could be amicably adjusted between the persons themselves, but if there is none, then members of the party should take a hand in the matter and in some fair way settle the right of one or the other to claim the Norfolk delegation as a whole. When it goes into the county convention the delegation from this precinct should go as a unit, asking for the nomination of one candidate and demanding that he be placed on the ticket. This can only be accomplished through harmony in our own ranks, and every republican who hopes to see his ticket elected this fall should work to that end. If the candidates cannot settle their differences between themselves, we would suggest that they convene a meeting of representative republicans to talk it over, and let them in some manner decide who shall be the Norfolk candidate for sheriff. Or let them submit the whole matter to the republican voters at a primary election, held for that purpose, with the understanding that the result shall act as instructions to the delegates to the county convention. Norfolk should certainly present only one name to the convention if we expect the nomination.

SAID TO BE INSANE.

Policeman Beymer is Before the Examining Board this Afternoon.

George W. Beymer, who has been serving as policeman at the Junction, was examined before the board of insanity at Madison this afternoon, to determine whether he is a fit subject for treatment at the hospital. Yesterday his son Howard went to the county seat and made complaint against the old gentleman, alleging that he believed him to be insane and that he had threatened to kill certain members of the family, for which reason the son wanted his father taken into custody. Accordingly Sheriff Losey came up yesterday afternoon and took Beymer to Madison last evening.

The neighbors scout the idea that Mr. Beymer is crazy. They say that it has been known throughout the Junction for some time that the family was having trouble, and they attribute the whole complaint against him as due to family difficulties.

Fred Hollingsworth went to Madison this morning to testify in behalf of Mr. Beymer at the examination this afternoon.

Colonel Charles E. Jones, the Georgia historian, has compiled a list of the surviving Confederate generals, which shows that out of the original nineteen lieutenant generals, seven survive; of the eighty-one major generals, sixteen are living, and of 355 brigadier generals, ninety-two survive. The living lieutenant generals are James Longstreet, Alexander P. Stewart, Stephen D. Lee, Simon B. Buckner, Wade Hampton, John B. Gordon and Joseph Wheeler.

When, in 1861, Governor Kirkwood, of Iowa, appointed Senator Allison colonel in the volunteer service and set him to raise four regiments the latter received most assistance from a big Scotch-American college lad who offered his services in any capacity. This man brought a company of his college friends and did other good work in enlisting recruits. He was David B. Henderson, next speaker of the house.

Since their supply of tobacco was cut down the convicts in the Iowa state penitentiary have been sullen and hard to manage, and some 300 of them have refused to work. Chicago physicians interviewed on the subject say the action of the prison authorities was unwise, that tobacco in moderate quantity does no harm and its quieting effects make prisoners as well as soldiers—as is recognized in the armies of the world—more amenable to discipline and less disposed to mischief.

SPECIAL SUNDAY WORK.

Services Under Auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. No work among the churches this summer has attracted more attention throughout the state than that conducted in many towns under the auspices of the state committee of the Young Men's Christian Association. In all towns where such Sundays have been held, the churches have united and all services during the day have been directed toward a greater interest in the work for young men.

Next Sunday will be such a day in Norfolk. Some of the strongest men in the state will be present, among whom are Geo. F. Bidwell, general manager of the F. E. & M. V. R. R., General Secretary Willis of Omaha, Marcus Wolf of Council Bluffs, J. S. Moore, general secretary of Y. M. C. A. in state university, and others who are interested.

All should attend the first meeting on Saturday evening of this week, addressed by some of the above persons. Other more definite arrangements will follow later.

Cheap Rates South.

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month, up to and including October, the Southern Railway offers to homeseekers and settlers the advantages of cheap one way and round trip tickets to practically all points in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Florida.

Homeseekers' tickets will be sold at the rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip, tickets good 21 days from date of sale in which to return.

The southeastern territory offers to the prospector and settler more advantages than any other part of the United States, and the Southern Railway has arranged for the sale of tickets on the dates mentioned above at low enough rates to enable any one to go South and investigate the opportunities offered in that territory.

HOME CURE FOR BLOOD POISON.

Beware of the Doctors' Patchwork; You Can Cure Yourself at Home.

There is not the slightest doubt that the doctors do more harm than good in treating Contagious Blood Poison; many victims of this loathsome disease would be much better off to-day if they had never allowed themselves to be dosed on mercury and potash, the only remedies which the doctors ever give for blood poison.

The doctors are wholly unable to get rid of this vile poison, and only attempt to heal up the outward appearance of the disease—the sores and eruptions. This they do by driving the poison into the system, and endeavor to keep it shut in with their constant doses of potash and mercury. The mouth and throat and other delicate parts then break out into sores, and the fight is continued indefinitely, the drugs doing the system more damage than the disease itself.

Mr. H. L. Myers, 100 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I had spent a hundred dollars with the doctors, when I realized that they could do me no good. I had large spots all over my body, and these soon broke out into running sores, and I endured all the suffering which this vile disease produces. I decided to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and was soon greatly improved. I followed closely your 'Directions for Self-Treatment,' and the large spots on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I was soon cured perfectly and my skin has been as clear as glass ever since. I cured myself at home, after the doctors had failed completely. It is valuable time thrown away to expect the doctors to cure Contagious Blood Poison, for the disease is beyond their skill. Swifts Specific——acts in an entirely different way from potash and mercury—it forces the poison out of the system and gets rid of it entirely. Hence it cures the disease, while other remedies only shut the poison in where it lurks forever, constantly undermining the constitution. Our system of private home treatment places a cure within the reach of all. We give all necessary medical advice, free of charge, and save the patient the embarrassment of publicity.

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD
